Places You'll Take Us (Rhyming Couplets, a'la Dr Seuss)

249 14 12

Chapter 1 by JP Adams

Two couplets (four lines total), which must rhyme. Have fun.

Past the tallest mountain there, runs a worn and dusty track.
It's said that this only path for traveling safely to Ripping-Sack.

'What is Ripping-Sack?', you ask? Well, I assumed that you would know... it's the only place for miles around, where the ChubNub berries grow.

Chapter 2 by R

I set forth down to Ripping-Sack, my eyes alight with glee
For soon enough these precious berries would all belong to me

But dare I step a foot upon the mountainous terrain
Then did a monstrous rumbling come rushing down the plain.

Chapter 3 by Brandy

It was a honking Gorginark, with fangs and purple hair
Thumping and bumping out from

Chapter 4 by R

I ran up along the mountain, careful as it were
Not wanting my own movements an avalanche to stirr

If luck were on my side that day, as i could only hope
I would quickly reach the berries that lay beyond the slope.

Chapter 5 by Pigletpaige

The Gorginark, though swift it be,
could not keep up with the likes of me.

So on I went on that fateful road,
Meeting no one but a talking Droad.

Chapter 6 by R

The Droad was dull, as it were,
But still I clenched on to it's fur.

I rode the dreadful beast far away
Hoping I'd reach my prize that day.

Chapter 7 by Ria

A berry for someone other than me
The only cure that will set you free

I took one from the Ripping-sack and finally knew it was time to go back
